U.S. Urges Force To Keep Balkans Peace

Former Premier Viscount Bennett Dies In England

DORKING, Surrey, Eng. (CP)—Viscount Bennett of Calgary, the prairie lawyer who in 1930 became Conservative Prime Minister of Canada, and held the post for five years, died suddenly Thursday night at his residence near Dorking in the quiet Surrey countryside. He would have celebrated his 77th birthday next Thursday.

Announcement of the funeral arrangements was made by Baron Beaverbrook, his old friend and next-door neighbor—they were law students together in New Brunswick. The service will be held in the little Mickleham Anglican church, to which Lord Bennett had promised a legacy. Burial probably will be in the churchyard.

Because he suffered from coronary thrombosis and from diabetes, and still felt the effects of a pneumonia attack last winter, Lord Bennett never took a bath without butler John Epps being nearby.

Thursday night he decided not to bathe, fatigued by an evening stroll, and Epps retired.

Later Lord Bennett apparently changed his mind and suffered a heart attack in the hot water. Lord Beaverbrook was immediately summoned and it was he who made the routine report to the police because the death was unattended.

Only a few weeks ago he was re-elected president of the Royal Society of Arts.

London associates said Lord Bennett had been with them discussing business affairs within the last few days. But only two days ago he did not appear in person when a new Canadian hospital in Britain was dedicated. Pleading ill-health, he sent a telegram of greetings.

BROTHER CHIEF HEIR

OTTAWA (CP)—The London report that with Viscount Bennett's death the title ends brought from an External Affairs official today information that this was the normal procedure.

Viscount Bennett left a brother and two nephews, but a title can be handed only by direct descent except in rare cases where special provision is made.

Since R. B. Bennett was the First Viscount Bennett, his title cannot be inherited through any of his ancestors.

The Viscount's brother, Capt. Ronald V. Bennett, lives in Sackville, N.B., and two nephews, Richard Coats of Montreal and William Herridge Jr. of Ottawa, also survive him.

The nephews are sons of the Viscount's two sisters, both of whom are dead.

Premier Hart paid the following tribute to the late Viscount Bennett:

"Canada has lost one of its great leaders in the death of Viscount R. B. Bennett. He was a man who made a very great contribution to the development of this country and in later life devoted his entire time to public problems. He headed the government during the most difficult depression in the history of Canada, and while there may not have been complete accord in connection with his policies, British Columbia nevertheless always received sympathetic consideration of its problems. His passing is an occasion for profound regret and I join with other Canadians in paying tribute to his great worth and in expressing our sorrow at his passing."

Held Canada's highest post... Late Viscount Bennett

Newspapermen got little information at the Bennett home today as to the death, but it was understood from his friends that he died in his bath.

Although he had retired from Canadian politics, Viscount Bennett was busy in Britain. High among his interests in the United Kingdom was his work as chairman of the London advisory committee of the Canadian Red Cross, where Col. R. W. Frost, overseas commissioner, termed him of the "greatest help with his advice and guidance."

"He was with us right up to yesterday and I spent last evening with him," said Frost. "It is a great shock to me. I owe him much."

Lord Bennett's last public appearance was at a Bank of Nova Scotia reception last Thursday.

Thousands Of Homeless In U.S. Midwest Await New Flood Blows

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP)—The flood-stricken midwest area of Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and Illinois, where thousands remained homeless and damage to crops was estimated at millions of dollars, prepared today for further devastation as rivers and streams rolled on to near record crests.

Residents of Ottumwa and Eddyville, Ia., who twice in less than a month have fought flood waters, again were threatened by the swollen Des Moines River. Thursday the stream, together with Raccoon River, brought the highest water in 44 years to Iowa's capital city of 170,000.

There was no let-up in the surging Missouri River, which at Booneville, Mo., had reached 31.3 feet in the greatest flood in 103 years. The muddy stream overflowed into thousands of acres of land near Rulo, Neb.

At least 2,000 persons were homeless along the Mississippi River between Alton and Cairo, Ill.

reported that levees protecting more than 42,000 acres in southern Illinois were endangered by the new crest of the Mississippi which is nearing St. Louis. Residents of the 13,200-acre Stringtown-Fort Chartres levee district north of Chester, Ill., were warned to move out as a "precautionary measure."

The Red Cross in St. Louis said 35 local chapters now are operating 31 shelters in the four-state area.

In Des Moines, two persons were missing and believed dead and about 1,800 were homeless after 73 square blocks were flooded Thursday when the Des Moines and Raccoon Rivers crested almost simultaneously.

In the southwest corner of Iowa, water from the Missouri River poured on lowlands through a breach in a dike at Payne, Ia. Some flooding was expected from the dike break at Hamburg, Ia., already hard hit by the swollen Nishnabotens River.

Japanese War Criminals On Way To Execution Jeer At Crowd In Shanghai

Death ride for two Japanese war criminals was like a carnival to thousands of Chinese who lined Shanghai streets to watch the doomed pair, Horichi Yonemura, 53, and Jiro Shimota, 29 carried by in a truck, centre background. Shimota laughed and jeered at the crowd all along the parade route. After the execution, the crowd trampled the bodies.

C.I.O. Leaders Meet, Talk Attitude On New Labor Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leaders of 6,000,000 members of the Congress of Industrial Organizations gathered today to draft a program of contest or compliance with the controversial Taft-Hartley labor law.

Thursday night President Truman cautioned both labor and management to live up to the new law, which went into effect last Monday after Congress had overridden the President's veto.

Protests against the labor-curb measure were immediate and today nearly two-thirds of the United States' soft coal miners were idle in wildcat strikes. The walkouts occurred as the federal government prepared for an exit from the soft coal business as of midnight tonight.

The government has been operating the mines since May 21, 1946, when it took over during another strike. The administration will not actually give up control of the mines until Monday noon, but tonight the miners will begin a 10-day vacation with pay granted in their contract with the naval coal mines administration.

The coal mines strikes—which have left 250,000 miners idle in 11 states—are not the only labor repercussions. A fuel shortage is pinching steel mills and railroads and dwindling coal stockpiles have forced lay-offs of steel workers. Coal-carrying railroads have at the same time started furnishing train crews.

The question will be sharpened at the end of the miners' holiday as no wage contract between the mine owners and the United Mine Workers (A.F.L.) has been signed. The miners have always maintained: "No contract, no work."

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said Thursday he would not consider calling a general strike in protest against the Taft-Hartley law, but he said his organization would fight it in the courts.

Dominion Surveyor Pressed For Complete Repairs To Harbor

Representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the City Harbor Committee, meeting with F. L. Cousins, Dominion government surveyor appointed to make a report on local harbor improvements, pressed today for complete repairs to the Canadian National Ogden Point Piers and construction of adequate passenger accommodation.

Mr. Cousins who arrived in Victoria Tuesday has been constantly conferring with Fred Hawes, chairman of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce Committee with regard to harbor improvements.

The Dominion government surveyor has also made a preliminary examination of Ogden Point, and is expected to attend a round table discussion to be held for all parties interested in harbor improvements before returning to Ottawa to submit his report next week.

Shipping officials have requested the complete leveling and surfacing of Ogden Point Piers, including the surfacing of the area with concrete, including the floors of the sheds.

It was pointed out that the piers are badly in need of repairs because of damage caused by erosion and weathering.

Other suggestions made to Mr. Cousins was the installation of fenders to protect the concrete of the wharves and the installation of adequate lighting facilities.

'Disguised' Man Not A Prowler; Had Been To Masquerade Party

Shortly before midnight Thursday a woman resident of Quebec Street telephoned the police that there was a prowler about her place and requesting assistance. "He looks like a man disguised as a woman," she told the police.

City police attended but a search failed to locate the man.

At 12.40 the same woman telephoned to say "that man's here again" and Sgt. Thomas Banister and Constables Bob Mair and Norman Galbraith sped to the scene in a prowler car.

This time they were more successful.

They located the man, and he was dressed like a woman.

However, questioning revealed he was a resident of the house in which the woman lived. He was trying to get in without waking anyone. As to his being in female dress, this was explained when he told the policemen he was returning from a masquerade party.

Flying Discs Seen Over Bellingham

BELLINGHAM (AP)—The "flying discs" first reported Thursday by an Idaho flier may have been over this northwest city if George Clover isn't mistaken.

Looking up while rebuilding his house about 10 a.m. Tuesday, Clover said he saw three shiny objects shaped like kites heading south towards Seattle. He insisted they had no wings or pontoons and that they were traveling "real fast."

"They don't shine like a looking glass," he recalled, "just sort of gleam."

His wife also saw the mysterious objects, Clover said. "At first I thought it was army jet jobs," he said, "because the engines didn't sound like no gas engine."

Rain Halts Talk In British Commons

LONDON (AP)—A spray from heavy thunder showers poured through the bomb-damaged roofs of Parliament today and sent members of the government and lawmakers scurrying to shelter.

Crops were damaged anew in south England. The electrical storm caused injury to four persons on the Thames embankment. A gale before the rain unroofed several houses.

Clouds caused almost mid-night darkness.

Ulster Bill Passed

LONDON (Reuter)—The House of Commons today gave final reading to a bill which extends the legislative powers of the government of Northern Ireland to enable it to co-operate more closely with Eire in the development of social and economic schemes.

Accuses Slavs, Bulgars; Says U.N. Must Act

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—The United States today charged Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria with using force against Greece and advocated employment of United Nations counter-force if necessary.

The American position was stated before the Security Council by Warren R. Austin, chief U.S. delegate, as debate began on the voluminous report of the U.N. Balkan Investigating Commission.

Austin told the council it may have to resort to counter-measures of the strongest possible kind if Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria continue "using force against the territorial integrity and political independence of Greece."

Under the U.N. charter, the council may call on members of the world peace organization to make available whatever forces are needed to preserve peace, pending creation of the permanent U.N. global police force, which now is under consideration.

British, French, Soviet Ministers Meet In Paris

PARIS (CP)—The Foreign Ministers of Britain, France and Russia today opened their European economic conference in the Parrot Room of the French Foreign Office.

The conference—first since the war aimed at establishing European economic security—opened at 5 p.m. after Foreign Secretary Bevin had flown to Paris from London. Bevin was the last of the three ministers to arrive.

Today's was an exploratory meeting on the implications of the aid-to-Europe plan announced by State Secretary Marshall of the United States at Harvard University, June 5.

TO TAKE STOCK

Europe was asked to take stock of its resources as a continent instead of a mess of countries, and to see how far within itself it possessed the means to recovery if they were properly pooled. The United States, Marshall implied, would try to make up the difference.

Molotov, Soviet Foreign Minister, accompanied by three plane-loads of aides, reached Paris Thursday.

Already he, Prime Minister Attlee and Sir Stafford Cripps, President of the Board of Trade, have defined Britain's position in conferences with William L. Clayton, U.S. State Under-Secretary for Economic Affairs.

Britain, Russia and France, it is believed, will examine the plan's possibilities by themselves. Not even a U.S. observer will be present.

The man in the street in France regards the conference with deadly seriousness. He feels that the economic situation, with its wave of strikes, inflation and shortages of everything, is so acute that almost anything to ensure United States aid is justifiable—even if it offends Russia.

OUTSIDE THE U.N.

LONDON (AP)—Authoritative British and United States sources said today the two countries had reached the "broad conclusion" that the Marshall aid-Europe program should be operated outside the United Nations framework.

The informants said this conclusion was one of several arrived at in talks this week between British officials and William L. Clayton, U.S. Under-Secretary of State for Economic Affairs. They said Foreign Secretary Bevin would seek creation of extra-U.N. machinery at the three-power Foreign Ministers' conference opening in Paris today.

U.S. Sends 130,000,000 Rounds For Rifles Of Chiang's Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has agreed to turn over to China 130,000,000 rounds of surplus rifle ammunition for weapons of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's troops.

State Department officials also told reporters today the Nanking government had been authorized to purchase other military supplies from American private manufacturers.

On the question of economic aid for the hard-pressed Nationalist government, the Export-Import Bank announced it will consider lending money to China for specific projects.

URGENTLY REQUESTED

Well-posted officials said that coincidentally with the Communists' drive in Manchuria and north China, Nanking representatives had been making urgent overtures for weapons, ammunition and other military equipment, from both U.S. army and navy surplus stocks.

At a time when Nanking officials have been charging—with-out confirmation—that Russia has supplied the Communists with ample arms, the ammunition supplies of Nationalist troops have been severely rationed.

Small arms and some artillery ammunition is obtainable in short notice from U.S. commercial arms plants, as are aircraft of many types, but officials said quick delivery on such weapons as machine guns, rifles and artillery could be had only from war-time army and navy stocks which might be declared surplus.

While the United States since

V-J Day has supplied limited quantities of arms to friendly countries in Europe, Latin America and elsewhere, China has received none since Marshall halted all deliveries last year before he abandoned his attempt to close the breach between the nationalistic government and the Communists.

There has been no formal embargo however, and no statutory block stood in the way of resuming shipments.

Weapons of Chiang's troops are largely American.

Rattlesnake Case Broken At Museum

Oscar had his home broken into on Thursday.

Oscar is a live rattlesnake with a deadly bite. He inhabits a glass case at the Provincial Museum.

Someone broke one of the glass panels. For what reason nobody seems to know. But sleepy Oscar didn't seem to mind and just kept on with his afternoon snooze.

Art Coates, whose job at the museum is to look after the rattlesnake, had his heart in his mouth when he noticed the broken case and a group of curious spectators peering at Oscar. Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the Provincial Museum was rushed to the scene and with a snake loop managed to hoist the snake from the case and to place him in a temporary box.

Mr. Coates felt greatly relieved. He says he has nothing against Oscar, but he has a complete respect for his fangs.

"School's Out!" Children Start Summer Vacation

The seashore, playgrounds, and camping grounds replaced the call of the school bell today as 9,500 children from Greater Victoria schools began the long summer vacation today. School will reconvene next Sept. 2.

Closing exercises were held in all elementary schools this morning when promotions were announced by the teachers.

There will be 692 pupils graduating from Grade 8 into high school, John Gough, municipal inspector of schools announced. There were 44 who received special promotions, and a number whose work was not up to standard must repeat the grade. There are 55 pupils from private schools who will be entering Grade 9. In many of the schools branches of the Parent-Teacher Associations have been giving graduation teas for the children.

Many of the teachers will use the summer vacation to improve their professional standing. To date 48 teachers have announced their intention to attend summer school. Of these 39 from elementary schools will take classes at the Summer School of Education, which opens at Victoria High School July 2 and closes Aug. 5.

In many of the schools students have been given the list of books and supplies they will need for next term. This is designed to prevent a last-minute rush on bookstores as school reopens in September.

Tourist Committee Urges Extension Of Holiday Season

OTTAWA (CP)—Extension of the holiday season and a general coast-to-coast road-building program is what Canada needs if she is to maintain and increase her tourist trade, the Senate tourist committee was told Thursday.

"Right now we're working on an idea to extend the tourist season," Leo Dolan, head of the Canadian Travel Bureau, told the committee, adding that attempts were even being made to get Labor Day extended until the third week in September. As it was, this year Labor Day would come on Sept. 1, when most of the tourists would have to miss that holiday week-end to get their children back to school.

Canadian highways had been the target for most of the criticism made by tourists, said Mr. Dolan, adding that "there's got to be a tremendous road-building program from Nova Scotia to British Columbia if we want to keep the tourist trade."

During the next three months it was expected Canada would be faced with the biggest tourist trade in its history, he continued. The bureau's advertising program in the last six months had brought in more than 170,000 inquiries from people in the U.S. wanting to come to Canada. This topped its previous record of 106,000 inquiries for one year.

cost of living is at such a high rate," members said.

As a result of hearing the conditions the changeover has brought, the council passed a resolution that all temporary hourly-paid employees being transferred to the civil service be given the same amount, or as near as possible, as that received on prevailing rates.

Colorful Career Of 'R.B.' Led From Calgary Law Office To House Of Lords

By Canadian Press
Acknowledged a great Canadian even by his political foes, Viscount Bennett led Canada through its most devastating economic depression as Prime Minister, and finally took his place as one of the elder statesmen of Great Britain, a member of the House of Lords whose counsel was sought by men of all parties.

In Parliament and out of it, at little prairie meetings, and before great London assemblies, he spoke with vigor and clarity. One theme threaded all his speeches—his faith in the British Commonwealth and Empire, of which he said in 1943, "I have believed in the British Empire since I was a boy and my belief in it is more fervent now that it ever was."

BORN IN NEW BRUNSWICK
Born Richard Bedford Bennett in Hopewell, N.B., he became the first Viscount Bennett of Mickleham, Surrey, and of Calgary and Hopewell, in the King's birthday honors list of June 12, 1941. He had made his home in England since 1939, after he retired from the Canadian political life.

Lord Bennett's choice of Calgary in his title reflected his long-continued interest in western Canada. As a youth he went to the prairies to practice law and was elected to the Northwest Territorial Legislature in 1898 from Calgary. Later he was a member of the Alberta Legislature and in 1911 he was sent to Ottawa by the electors of Calgary.

Coincidental with his parliamentary career, he pursued a successful career as a financier and corporation lawyer. In 1927 the Conservative opposition elected him leader and in 1930 he led the party to victory in the general elections, winning 137 of the 245 House of Commons seats.

A strong supporter of Empire preferences, he held fast for British preference for Canadian goods at the Imperial Economic Conference in 1930. The conference adjourned without taking action, but Lord Bennett won his point at the Ottawa Imperial Conference in 1932.

ALWAYS CANADIAN
Lord Bennett never pretended to be anything but Canadian although he became a part of English city and country life during his eight years in the United Kingdom.

All his life he retained his memory for faces and facts and reporters who had not seen him for years found he remembered their careers.

He was always surrounded by friends who cherished his advice. His copious memory had stores of entertainment—of pioneer days, politics, legal incidents, British associations. He gave away fortunes and chose to spend much of the war in bomb-battered and austere London.

"This island and its people have saved Christian civilization," he said once and it was his pride to see history made as Britain battled Hitler.

WORK DURING WARS
During the First Great War he was parliamentary Under-Secretary of External Affairs to Prime Minister Robert Borden and later Director-General of National Service.

In the Second Great War, having become Viscount Bennett in 1941, he traveled over the United Kingdom, speaking in support of the Red Cross, "Wings for Victory" campaigns and other causes. One newspaper called him "the most sought-after speaker apart from the war leaders." From his fortune he gave hundreds of thousands of pounds sterling to patriotic campaigns and educational and other institutions both in Canada and the United Kingdom.

A year after his Empire tour in 1937, Mr. Bennett revealed he planned to live in the United Kingdom and in 1939 he supervised the redecoration and furnishing of a great rectangular brick house at Juniper Hill, near Mickleham, Surrey, which he had purchased. It was near the home of his lifelong friend and former fellow law apprentice in Canada, Baron Beaverbrook.

In the basement he installed a cinema for his servants and another in the house for himself and his friends. Soon his home was a meeting-place for visiting Canadians, who often walked with their host through the fine grounds.

In 1941 he was made a viscount. Many of his friends expected his title would include "Calgary," which he had long represented at Ottawa. But in the end he entered the Red Chamber as "Viscount Bennett" without elaboration.

played in Canada, declaring again his faith in British leadership in development of the Commonwealth and Empire, but at the same time warning that the Dominions must be consulted on foreign policy and all other matters in which they were concerned.

In 1944 he looked at Northern Ireland, and neutral Elze and after praising the Dominions' war effort, added: "When I compare this with what is happening in the southern half of the island near to you it makes me sick."

He gave £20,000 ($80,000) to a London "Wings for Victory Week" campaign; £211,000 to Dalhousie University, Halifax; £56,000 to Mount Allison University, Sackville, N.B., and £28,000 to the University of Alberta, Edmonton. He became treasurer of the Friends of Wesley's Chapel on London's City Road, the mother church of world Methodism.

SOLD TO WESTON

By then he had disposed of many of his Canadian holdings. In April, 1943, Willard Garfield Weston, then a Conservative member of the British Parliament, bought Viscount Bennett's controlling interest in the E. B. Eddy Co., Hull, Que., some millions of dollars being involved.

The war brought personal losses. Two nephews, sons of the late Capt. R. V. Bennett, died on active service. But wherever she also is dead.

B.C. Rangers Say Plan Of 5,000 For All Canada Inadequate

VANCOUVER (CP)—A report from army headquarters that the strength of the Canadian Rangers would be limited to 5,000 men for the whole of Canada was today objected to as totally inadequate by Col. T. A. H. Taylor, organizer of British Columbia's famed wartime woodsmen—the Pacific Coast Militia Rangers.

Col. Taylor said 5,000 men would be insufficient for B.C. alone with its 5,000 miles of coastline.

He recalled the enthusiasm with which "his" Rangers had each paid $5 for their 10,000 rifles.

"To-day, if the force were re-activated in B.C., where it is needed almost as much as it was during the war, we could have 20,000 men in the Rangers," he said.

"I doubt whether the orthodox army system will ever run the Rangers to the best effect," he said. "The men are losing interest."

The secret of the success and efficiency of the Rangers in B.C. was that "for discipline they substituted horse-sense."

"It will never work to try to give them spit and polish," he said. "It's a tragedy that a fine force should be allowed to die out because of military bureaucracy."

No information was available as to the strength proposed for British Columbia and interest was fast ebbing after a complete lack of instructions since Defence Minister Clixton said here April 9 that the Rangers would be re-formed.

Weather
Weather today and tomorrow, valid until midnight Saturday, June 28:

The northwesterly flow of moist air over the B.C. coast is persisting today although it is much less intense than yesterday. As a result the cool cloudy weather is expected to persist but clearing skies are looked for on Saturday.

21 Victoria, Island Servicemen To Be Honored On July 1

Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks will honor 21 Victoria and Island servicemen among a total of 118 British Columbians at a special investiture to be held at Government House July 1 at 4.

Attending the investiture will be Air Vice-Marshal K. M. Guthrie, C.B., C.B.E., the air officer commanding the Northwest Air Command, and his aide, Sqdn. Ldr. H. V. Peterson, D.F.C., and two Bars.

Eight airmen will be decorated, including Flt. Lt. Joseph Allan Whipple of Colquitz, Victoria, who will be invested with the D.F.C. His citation reads as follows:

"This officer has completed numerous sorties and throughout has displayed great keenness and determination. In April, 1945, he was pilot and captain of an aircraft detailed to attack an airfield at Heligoland. Whilst on the bombing run his aircraft sustained severe damage. Despite this, Whipple completed the bombing run and made a successful attack. He skillfully flew his crippled aircraft back to base where he executed a safe landing. On other occasions he has shown outstanding skill in attacking strongly defended targets despite heavy enemy opposition and damage to his aircraft. His devotion to duty has been most commendable."

Other local airmen receiving decorations at the investiture and their awards are: James Allen Carr of 619 Transit Road, who is awarded the D.F.C., and Allan Jesse Baker, Csen Road, Victoria, B.C.M.

Other island servicemen receiving decorations, and their awards: Maj. F. W. Belsen, Sidney, M.B.E.; L-Cpl. A. T. Blackmore, 2749 Asquith, M.M.; Col. J. B. Cochrane, Maple Bay Road, Dun-

Fireman Injured

VANCOUVER (CP)—Four persons were in hospital here today following a spectacular accident in South Vancouver Thursday night when a fire truck, rushing with sirens screaming to a fire, collided with an automobile. Fireman Eric Robinson was trapped beneath the heavy ladder truck. Eyewitnesses report the truck collided with the rear of the auto.

mobile, careened forward and toppled over against a telephone pole, pinning Robinson underneath. The automobile was thrown 30 feet, landing on the sidewalk. The truck buckled with the force of the collision and broken ladders were strewn over the street. Only Robinson, with chest and head injuries, was reported badly hurt. His condition was described as "fairly good." The fire was extinguished.

Obstacles Overcome In Keeping Open Alaska Highway

WHITEHORSE, Y.T.—Flood waters, floating ice, 80-foot driftwood jams and a glacier are among the difficulties army engineers have surmounted in keeping the Alaska Highway open to traffic during the spring thaw, it is revealed in a current report of Brig. Geoffrey Walsh, commander of the Northwest Highway System.

The report shows that heavy snow and exceptionally cold winter weather—as low as 81 degrees below zero—coupled with a late but exceptionally warm spring resulted in the highway maintenance crews being faced with the most severe spring break-up since the completion of the highway.

After keeping the highway in good repair all winter, the crews were forced to make road closures at the Coal and Little Rancheria rivers for three and four days respectively, despite 24-hour vigils at all strategic locations. A heavy run-off of water, bringing with it great quantities of ice, driftwood and muskeg, overwhelmed even safety culverts of large size installed specially for floods in normally dry stream beds.

Sappers of No. 1 Road Maintenance Company, Royal Canadian Engineers, built a pile trestle bridge 160 feet long, capable of taking 70-ton loads, in record time of four days, to replace one which had been completely washed away. Most difficulty was encountered in the Muncho Lake to Swift River area, where many timber bridges were damaged. Residents near the Liard River report the stream on June 1 reached a point approximately 14 feet higher than has been seen in the last 10 years.

GOOSE BAY, Labrador (CP)—The bodies of three United States army airmen who were lost in a crash more than three months ago were located by a search party Thursday near Double Mer Lake, in the Labrador solitudes 70 miles north of here.

Charges Of Filibuster Hurlled As House Debates Pension Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—A multi-party plea for old age pensions for the Dominion's first citizens—the Canadian Indians—highlighted Thursday's Commons debate on the widely-criticized government bill to increase basic payments by $5 monthly to $30.

That was the sole new development of a sitting devoted largely to repetition of opposition arguments about the inadequacy of the increase, the need for abolition of the means test and lowering of present pensionable age limit of 70.

In eight hours of clause-by-clause study, the chamber managed to approve only one minor section and bogged down in a wrangle over the main clause, one which details qualifications and the amount of income a pensioner would be allowed.

As the debate progressed, Liberal members began shouting "filibuster" at C.C.F. and Social Credit members calling for an increase in the basic pension to $50 a month.

MOTION RULED OUT

The discussion plunged the House into a recorded division in which the government outvoted a combined opposition 82 to 61 to support a ruling of the chair that a C.C.F. motion to boost the basic pension to $50 a month was out of order on the ground only the government can take action which will increase taxation.

The amendment was moved by Stanley Knowles, C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre, who cited constitutional authority to back his contention that he could move to increase the maximum pension since the resolution preceding the bill had mentioned no specific sum.

First reading was given a bill making 34 amendments to the Criminal Code and providing authority to have habitual criminals sentenced to indeterminate periods of detention. This section would apply to criminals 18 years and over who have been convicted three times on indictable offences and sentenced to terms of imprisonment of not less than five years on each occasion.

Justice Minister Ilsley said no one would be charged with being a habitual criminal without the consent of the Attorney-General of the province where the accused resides.

The bill would permit habitual criminals to be confined apart from other prisoners. Such criminals would be subjected to such disciplinary and reformatory treatment as might be prescribed by prison regulations.

Every three years the Minister of Justice would review the condition, history and circumstances of the person undergoing preventive detention and determine whether the person should be released on parole.

PENALTIES INCREASED

Another amendment would increase from one to three years the penalty for operators of common bawdy houses. A new section would provide penalties for any one working in the interests of a bawdy house. The penalties would be a $200 fine or 12 months' imprisonment, or both fine and imprisonment.

The penalty for hit-and-run drivers likewise would be increased.

A code amendment would make it an offence to carry an imitation of an offensive weapon. This resulted from the action of the Court of Appeal of Ontario in quashing a conviction where the accused carried a black, carved wooden replica of an automatic weapon.

The court held it was not an offensive weapon with the definition set out in the code.

Winnipeg Thieves Loot Camera Store

WINNIPEG (CP)—A daring break-in of Taylors Ltd. photographic supply store in the business section here Thursday night netted thieves 16 movie and still cameras valued at $1,771.

Police believe the store was entered shortly before they received an anonymous telephone call saying a "tall man in a panama hat" was breaking into the store. They said a man answering roughly that description entered the store during the day and left without buying anything. They believe it possible he may have "cased" the store then.

Manager William A. Taylor said the thieves were evidently experts on cameras because they picked only ones with a ready market. Several expensive and complicated models were left untouched. The stolen goods were fully covered by insurance, he said.

Vessel Travels Under Water To Scene Of Crash

NANAIMO (CP)—Here is a true marine story for Ripley's Believe It Or Not—vouched for the official records of the B.C. Forestry and Dominion Fisheries offices.

It concerns the mysterious undersea odyssey of the Fisheries patrol boat Merry C II—a three-week submarine voyage by a surface craft which returned to the scene of the crime.

Last May 30 the Merry C was rammed broadside by the B.C. Forestry ship Forest surveyor alongside the Campbell River wharf. Half submerged, the Merry C was taken in tow by tugs, but broke loose in a heavy wind and sank in 40 fathoms of water.

Last week an Indian fishboat struck a submerged obstacle at the Campbell River wharf.

Yes—it was the Merry C. The vessel had traveled about under water for three weeks and finally moved some three miles back to the very spot where she had been rammed.

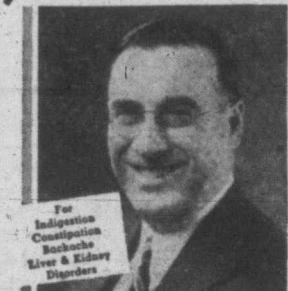

She was raised and is now undergoing repairs.

Rain Brings Worries To Cherry Growers

KELOWNA, B.C.—Rain in the Okanagan district Thursday brought added worries to cherry growers, who anticipate there will be additional splitting as a result. The loss from splitting in the Oliver-Osoyoos area is now placed at between 50 and 60 per cent of the Bing crop. Some salvage has resulted, however, with about 17 straight cars of cherries

RICHARD BEDFORD BENNETT

ALTHOUGH HE HAD BECOME AN imposing part of the political, business and social life of the great British metropolis, as well as a liberal patron of the arts, the late Viscount Bennett of Mickleham, Surrey, and of Calgary and Hopewell, never lost touch with or interest in the welfare of his native Canada. Thousands throughout the Dominion and the rest of the nations of the Commonwealth and Empire will have learned of his sudden passing with profound regret. But perhaps nowhere will the death of the former Canadian Prime Minister be so keenly felt as among the folk to whom he had endeared himself along the countryside of beautiful Surrey. Through his many and unostentatious benefactions and his kindly bearing he had become accepted by the whole district in which he had lived in recent years as one of its own.

For more than half a century the law and politics had absorbed Richard Bedford Bennett—first in his adopted province of Alberta, and in the federal realm, from 1911 until he left the country to reside in Britain in 1938. He was a Conservative of the old school; and he was nothing if not consistent in his devotion to the philosophy he embraced as a young lawyer in Calgary. While thousands of Canadians placed him in the category of reaction as reflected by his party's financial and fiscal policies, he won the admiration of friends and opponents alike by his meticulous adherence to the clear line of demarcation by which he separated his own from the doctrines espoused by Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King and his Liberal following.

Viscount Bennett's concept of Empire and Empire policy often revealed strange contradictions. None could deliver a more eloquent or convincing speech than he when he chose to expatiate on the virtues of the British system—or to proclaim his unswerving loyalty to the Crown and its ramified implications. Nor in this respect would he consider Mr. Mackenzie King any less eloquent and convincing. But the two Prime Ministers differed in method and degree. They were as the poles apart in fiscal considerations. Viscount Bennett's sponsorship of the Imperial Economic Conference in 1932 unquestionably resulted in the formulation of new trading arrangements between the component parts of the Commonwealth—under which Canada, incidentally, profited on a sectional basis. One may have to rely upon the historian's assessment of the merits or demerits of those treaties in the broader Empire sense. Nor should it be forgotten that the Smoot-Hawley law adopted by the Republican Party and Congress of the United States in 1930 was the last straw in the world's tariff spree which hastened the economic collapse in 1929.

After he and his party had won the election in 1930, when Canada's external trade had reached the record value of more than $2,600,000,000, Mr. Bennett found himself confronted with a crop of economic problems and an army of idle workers of formidable proportions. It was a situation demanding the wisdom of a Solomon. He attacked it vigorously, if not always judiciously, but it would be safe to say that he was under no illusion when he appealed to the people for new instructions in the early fall of 1935. If the Conservative Party had succeeded in winning endorsement in that year, it could have been called a miracle; all the economic dice were loaded against such a prospect.

Although Mr. Bennett was not fated to serve his country as Prime Minister for more than one term, he had the satisfaction of knowing that he had headed a government which, according to its lights, had striven valiantly in the face of many odds for which it could by no means be held responsible. But in the years of life which remained to him after his retirement from the hurly-burly of politics, this eminent Canadian found much to occupy his vast intellect, to indulge his love of and interest in Empire affairs, and to utilize those fine generous impulses for which he will long be remembered. No sooner had he taken up his residence in his adopted country than he set about finding new outlets for still wider concern for the humanities. He gave freely and liberally of his competence to the end. Few people knew of those benefactions which meant so much to so many. Though he wore a noble title and served Britain with unswerving devotion through the tragic war years, and since, Richard Bedford Bennett's epitaph will read: He was a good Canadian.

OUR AIR VISITORS

UNLESS SOME FREAK DEVELOPMENT in the weather makes flying conditions unfavorable, Victoria expects to play host to occupants of approximately 300 planes due tomorrow morning at Patricia Bay. The achievement of that total in the flight of the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association would constitute a record for this type of visitor, and would present a preview of things to come in the realm of air tourism in this section of the continent.

It is the plan of local authorities to welcome the airmen and their passengers on their arrival at Patricia Bay and to drive them, in private cars, via Butchart's Gardens, to the Armories for a luncheon. To accommodate the number expected at the airport, citizens are asked to volunteer the use of their cars to bring the visitors into town and return them later to Patricia Bay. This is a call to the public-spirited to perform a service which should not be without recompense to the area. On the impression local hosts are able to make upon the visitors may depend much of the future attraction of Greater Victoria and southern Vancouver Island to those private plane owners who come on this trip—and others to whom they will describe their experiences. Those wishing to provide transportation to and from the airport should communicate with the local committee at the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

ONE HOPE

THERE IS SOBER WARNING IN TWO current news items dealing with the hearing in Washington on the proposed Inter-American Military Co-operation Act and the conference in Winnipeg of the Canadian Medical Association. For each of these discussions has highlighted the danger of armed attack on this continent and the measures that would be necessary to combat it. It is cause for serious concern that less than two years after the close of the war which left us on the verge of global suicide such defensive studies are still necessary.

The Foreign Affairs Committee hearing on the advisability of standardizing Canadian and American weapons of war yesterday brought from a major-general of the United States Army the opinion that "in any future war one of the major and early objectives of any enemy will be an air attack against the vital industrial areas of these two countries." Such a threat, he said, necessitated close co-operation and standardization of arms, material, tactics and organization between the United States and Canada.

In Winnipeg, meanwhile, the medical profession of this country heard a dissertation on the likely effects of atomic bomb attack on our population, and the measures which should be taken to prepare for it. A brief glimpse into the possibilities is seen in the recommendation that a system of defence must include "psychological preparation for the population to accept casualties without losing the will to fight." There can be little satisfaction among the men and women of this continent—doing their daily jobs, bringing up their families, planning for the years to come—in the contemplation of such a future as is suggested by these news items. The first impulse is to cry down with warmongers and the people who concern their thoughts with wars and rumors of wars. But on the other side it must be said that these authorities are only living up to their responsibilities in thus making plain the problems which face us.

What defence expert, charged with studying his country's needs, would wish to go down in history as the man who guessed wrong, who underestimated conditions to the peril of his country? We cannot solve the problem, or even acknowledge it, by shutting our eyes and hoping for the best. But there is a way by which the need for eternal vigilance and atomic war defence preparations may be rendered unnecessary. It is through the world organization of the United Nations, with its co-operative discussions, supervision and mutual aid in righting wrongs and injustices. That is the hope of the nations, but only in so far as public opinion—the sum of the opinions of individual citizens—supports it and furthers its aims.

CONSTRUCTIVE DEVELOPMENT

IT WILL BE A SOURCE OF SATISFACTION to parents of Greater Victoria that supervised playground programs this summer promise a wide variety of constructive activity for their children in many districts of this region. The manner in which this vacation time feature has developed during recent years presents proof of the value of the service inaugurated some time ago to meet a community need.

Many highly useful and attractive departments have been added to the schedules originally arranged, and excellent instructors, specifically qualified for their tasks, have been engaged to ensure the success of the courses and games training that is offered. Judged by results of earlier experience, the learn-to-swim classes will be particularly valuable. In previous seasons a large number of youngsters have gained some proficiency in the water through these courses, which, incidentally, are being supplemented by the Victoria Y.M.C.A. at Cordova Bay. While the merits of this instruction may be more apparent than those of other activities, all extend opportunities for development in group recreation to the young people.

On the basis of programs outlined for the opening of the different parks next week, Greater Victoria has, through its playground committees, made generous provision for the entertainment, instruction and supervision of its new generation. The arrangements demonstrate an encouraging appreciation of this community's desire to help its children to grow strong and healthy in physique and mind.

THE NEW EUROPEAN POLICY

THIS WEEK FOR the first time since the war, a meeting of foreign ministers of the great powers is taking place in which the United States is not a leading participant. Mr. Molotov came to Paris at the invitation of Mr. Bevin and M. Bidault, who acted promptly as soon as they understood the controlling idea of Secretary Marshall's Harvard speech—that the United States would henceforth be able to assist in the recovery of Europe only if the leading nations of Europe could agree on how Europe was to use her help effectively.

This is the beginning of a new chapter in the work of settling the war. All the previous conferences have been dominated and determined by a political and an ideological contest between America and Russia.

THE RESULT has been to compel the European nations, including Great Britain, to choose sides. For Russia and America are both non-European powers. Though both have vital interests in Europe, neither is by tradition and instinct primarily European, and their predominance in all the discussions has interfered with the natural tendency of the European peoples to come together.

Yet the unity of Europe, at least in the form of economic arrangements, is necessary to peace and recovery. That unity cannot be achieved if the Europeans must always look first to Washington or to Moscow before they talk out their differences with one another. The family life of Europe is not likely to be restored if mother-in-law Russia and Uncle Sam are all over the house all the time.

So the United States is retiring to a discreet distance, and supposing that as a consequence the Russians will begin to draw back also. What reasons are there to think that if the U.S. relaxes her grip on the details of the European settlement that the Russians may eventually follow suit?

THERE ARE A NUMBER of reasons which may be expected to reinforce each other. For one thing, in offering to assist a United Europe, rather than to go on making bilateral agreements of aid with separate governments, the United States is destroying the whole idea, mostly though not entirely a propagandist's fable, that she has been trying to control Europe with American dollars.

To invite Europe to unite in order that she may assist it is the surest proof that the United States does not seek to rule Europe. The principle of aggression and domination is to divide and rule—never, as in Mr. Marshall's Harvard speech, to unite those who need help.

Second, the U.S. is not only offering to help on the very terms to which no European can take exception—namely, that Europe shall control its own destiny—but it is in a position to make that help substantial and decisive. On what grounds can the Kremlin now forbid Poland and Czechoslovakia to participate in the benefits of a program of European recovery? If the Kremlin does forbid them to participate, it will teach its Slav friends that an alliance with Russia is incompatible with reasonably prompt rehabilitation. Unless, therefore, Moscow is looking for trouble in its own orbit, it cannot afford to deny to its allies the benefits of participation.

YET IF POLAND and Czechoslovakia, the two strongest economic powers in eastern Europe, join with Great Britain and France in formulating a program, a framework of European unity into which the German states can be fitted, will exist.

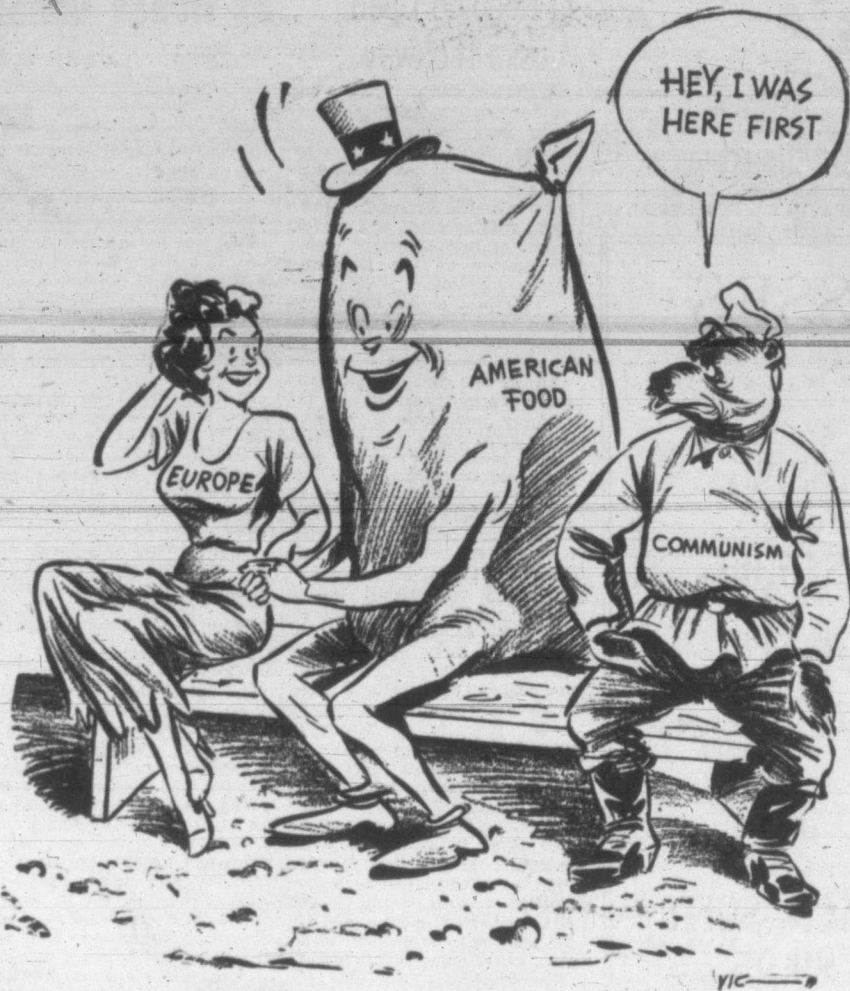

Third, in western Europe—primarily France, and then Belgium, the Netherlands and Italy—the Communist parties and their near allies cannot oppose or obstruct a European economic agreement without taking the blame for prolonging and aggravating the misery of the people. They cannot say that they are objecting to the new policy because they are against a "Western bloc." A policy in which Poland and Czechoslovakia participate is not a Western bloc, and French or Italian Communists can hardly continue to be more pro-Soviet than the governments which are most closely allied with the Soviet Union.

FOURTH, under this policy Great Britain must, in order to solve its own economic difficulties, play its full part in Europe. As long as America took the initiative in every European discussion, British statesmanship was so pre-occupied with the U.S. that it could not and did not focus on Europe.

And what if these hopes are dashed, if as the United States withdraws from the forefront of the conferences about Europe, the Russians take the opposite line, and begin to throw their weight around more than ever? If they do that they will demonstrate to the peoples of Europe that it is not America, and the Truman Doctrine, and the getting "tough with Russia," which provoke them but their own decision to rule Europe or to ruin it.

IF THEY TAKE THIS LINE, the United States will, after the experiment, come back into Europe with a clearer mandate, a clearer conception of the problem, and a new strategic method. It will not then be a question of arguing, or of elaborate indirect devices, as in Greece, for halting the advance of Soviet imperialism, but of positive measures and positive penalties—in the orthodox tradition of diplomacy and power politics—at those critical points where power, not merely influence, will exert its maximum effect.

Behind The Strikes In France

By ROBERT BOTHEREAU (Secretary of the General Federation of Labor)

SINCE THE liberation, French trade-unionism, which is both the representative and the guide of the working class, has shown a keen sense of national duty, and it is due to this fact that no social conflict of any size has occurred to hamper the country's economic recovery.

So our friends abroad must be wondering today about the recent outbreak of strikes in the French capital. It is to these questions that I should like to reply, as frankly and objectively as possible.

As a matter of fact, the material situation of French wage-earners, taken as a whole, is not particularly enviable. It may be better than that of workers in some other countries which suffered from the war or foreign occupation as France did, or more than France did. But it is certainly not enviable as compared with other sections of the French population which were able to return fairly quickly to a living standard approximating that of prewar days.

IN MIDST OF RECOVERY

Economically, France is in the midst of recovery. The average level of her present production hovers around 90 per cent of her prewar production. If all other things were equal, the worker's situation would be acceptable. But, in a country like France, which suffered so much destruction during the war and was robbed of so much by the enemy, a very large share of production must be devoted to repairs and thus be diverted from its normal course to the consumer market.

Actually, for every Frenchman to regain approximately his prewar standard of living, or, if not that, at least a decent standard of living, would require not just a return to prewar production; it would be necessary to double and triple that amount. In her effort to raise present production figures, France, as everyone knows, comes up against the shortage of coal, which she cannot hope to provide in sufficient quantities from her own mines alone, and also the shortage of manpower.

DISCREPANCIES And that situation, arising out of the war, affects the whole population, including, of course, the workers. However, what the French worker suffers from is perhaps not so much that—to be perfectly frank—as the consciousness that there are grave discrepancies in social justice.

He, whose sense of justice is especially keen, realizes that he is bearing a greater share, and a heavier share of the reconstruction burden than are others. It is a fact, for example, that some government action should have been and could have been taken to reduce the number of middlemen in business circles, and to limit them to more reasonable profits.

In France, as everywhere else, the worker is caught between the two poles of his wages and the cost of living. And if wages average around five times what they were in prewar days, the cost of living is more than eight times higher.

FOOD DIFFICULTIES And that, set forth briefly, is the position of the worker in France. It constitutes the deep, underlying cause of a dissatisfaction that there is no use concealing, but it is not the immediate cause of the strike outbreaks which I want to discuss.

These, actually, must be attributed to present food supply difficulties, especially in the large cities and affecting particularly meat and bread. The restrictions that the government has recently been forced to place on bread—basic food of the French people and a commodity which is considered indispensable—restrictions which aggravate the situation I have just described, are undoubtedly at the bottom of the wave of wage demands.

Depending only on the help of the wheat-exporting countries, France will certainly have some very difficult weeks before the next harvest. And that harvest will be terribly short because of the unfortunate weather conditions last winter.

So, under the circumstances, one should not be too surprised if the French workers show some impatience.

DEVOTION TO DUTY Besides, we must pay them this tribute: In a country where people are not equally public-spirited, the French workers have shown an understanding and a devotion to duty which account for their contribution to the general recovery and the atmosphere of social peace that foreign visitors are quick to sense.

For, in spite of what I have just explained, the atmosphere of social peace is not seriously threatened. Let the government decide to take some action which will alleviate the situation of the workers who are worst off in the social scale, and things will quickly return to order.

Indeed they are already doing so. As I write this, there are rumors of compromise and a lessening of tension in circles where some agitation was evident.

PRODUCTION ESSENTIAL Guided by a trade union movement in which the great majority of them are included and in which they have full confidence, French wage-earners, today as always, are convinced of the necessity of going about their work. They know that they must depend on their own production to improve the situation of the country in general and of each of them in particular. They know that it would be contrary to their interests to take a stand which might compromise the value of the franc and the future of the nation. The strike movements which have aroused criticism are very understandable manifestations of impatience. They are nothing but that. France remains the country where everyone will continue to do his part to restore the ruins and bring back the prosperity without which there can be no true liberty.

No Brumbies For Export

Australian News Letter

EMPEROR Haile Selassie of Ethiopia has ordered 180 chargers from the Commonwealth Government to mount the Imperial Bodyguard at Addis Ababa. He has specified that they include 60 blacks and 60 greys, 63 inches high, and as near as possible four years old.

The bodyguard is described as consisting of "tall men, but not very heavy." Officials estimate it will take three months to buy and break in the horses and complete all arrangements for shipment.

France has also made tentative inquiries for 2,000 Australian horses for general purposes, and Turkey for 1,000. Malaya recently bought about 70 Australian racehorses.

A Greek firm recently applied for a quotation for Australian brumbies (wild horses), but the government is unwilling to grant licences for the export of brumbies because of the possible harm they may do to the Australian horse-breeding industry.

Brumbies are becoming a nuisance in parts of Queensland and South Australia. One pastoral company employs seven men to shoot them and they got 4,000 last year on the company's Queensland properties alone. Since 1932 the demand for horses has fallen steadily and they have been allowed to breed unmolested. One brumby eats as much as two cattle.

Scenery is the only natural resource that can be exported over and over again without depletion to the province.—Hon. E. C. Carson.

FEW TO "SOAK"

Ottawa Journal

The government's revenue from income tax, the vast bulk of it, comes from the people who get small incomes—and must come from them. What the government gets, or could get, from the wealthier class wouldn't take care of a week of the government's expenses.

IGNORING THE FACTS

Ottawa Citizen

As has been a dozen times emphasized by this newspaper, the Russian leaders neither want war nor are they equipped to wage it. They are, indeed, so full of fear, suspicion and oftentimes ignorance of the profound desire of the rest of the world for peace that they, in turn, are guilty at times of stupid and provocative misrepresentations.

WHAT A DAME!

Montreal Daily Star

Nothing, we suppose, will stop the raging of the battle (over the carillon inscription). This is Ontario at her gaudy best, a respectable old lady with her bonnet cocked over one ear, a button off her coat and an umbrella firmly clutched in her hand by its business end. A dear old lady she is but—when she decides on a spree—what a dame!

DIM VIEW

Reader's Digest

The credit manager of a Seattle firm was having difficulty in making a collection from an account in northern Washington. He finally wrote: "Dear Mr. Jones: What would your neighbors think if I came to your town and repossessed your car?"

A week later he received his letter back, and under his signature was scrawled: "Sir, I took the above matter up with my neighbors and they think it would be a lousy trick."

PITY THE KIDS

Windsor Star

When children were playing on the street, neighbors called the police. The officers arrived and told the youngsters to play somewhere else.

An hour later the police were called again. This time they were playing in the backyard of the apartment where they live.

What are kids supposed to do nowadays, sit around and twiddle their thumbs so as not to annoy a lot of people who got up on the wrong side of the bed?

MODERN SCHOOLING

Fourth-year students will concentrate on studies of international problems, while those in their fifth year will analyze the programs of the various Norwegian political parties with particular stress on their international perspective.

EXPERTS UNDER A CLOUD

Letter to The Times of London

The poor opinion of experts expressed in your leading article of June 10, "Experts Under a Cloud," may be strengthened by the following extract from a letter by Lord Salisbury to Lord Lytton in 1877, quoted in the life of Lord Salisbury by his daughter:

No lesson seems to be so deeply inculcated by the experience of life as that you should never trust experts. If you believe the doctors, nothing is wholesome; if you believe the theologians, nothing is innocent; if you believe the soldiers, nothing is safe. They all require to have their strong wine diluted by a very large admixture of insipid common sense.

HE WONDERED AT TEARS

B.B.C. London Letter

Macdonald Hastings in a recent "London Letter" broadcast in the B.B.C.'s North American Service, told of an Englishman who had just returned from a world tour, a food-rationed Londoner, to whom the world outside Britain was "a mountain of eats." This man remarked that the food that's wasted in a day in New York alone would make up the deficiency in our diet in England. "He told us," said Hastings, "how he took an English girl on her visit to America, to a New York restaurant. She ordered a steak. It was far too big for her rationed tummy and she couldn't eat all of it. When the waiter gathered up her plate, at the same time he emptied the contents of the ash-tray over the remains of the steak she couldn't finish. And that New York waiter is probably still wondering why that English girl suddenly burst into tears."

'Blue Baby' On Road To Recovery

It was the first operation of its kind to be performed here.

Shipping Experts Impressed By Chinook's Manoeuvrability

Chinook winds are kind and are responsible for the beautiful climate in the Pacific northwest and that is why the new Black Ball ferry has been named the Chinook.

In making the presentation of a Canadian flag to Capt. Alex M. Peabody, president of the company, while the Chinook was rolling amid the white caps off Race Rocks Thursday at noon, Mayor Percy George gave the definition of the word "Chinook" and laid emphasis on the part which deal with the "moist winds."

As he accepted the flag Capt. Peabody said that was why they selected "Chinook" as the name for their flagship. The moist winds give to their area a climate unequalled in the world and his company was anxious to do its part in carrying people between the different ports, he said.

Capt. Peabody said it was not every country that was willing to present its flag to another and he passed the ensign to Capt. Lyle Fowler, master of the Chinook, who said he would have it given a place of honor on a wall in one of the ship's public rooms.

DEVELOP TRAVEL

Mayor George congratulated the company on its foresight and courage in constructing such a modern ferry, which he felt would do much to develop tourist travel between the Island and mainland points.

Members of the City Council and other citizens were among the guests of Capt. Peabody and George Paulin, Victoria agent of the Black Ball line, on a round trip to Port Angeles. Both going and coming the ship rolled a little in the swells which were kicked up by a southwesterly wind.

Inspection of the public rooms and staterooms revealed several innovations which were pleasing. The ship is entirely fireproofed and she is not sheathed with wood inside, as are most vessels. Her steel plates and beams have been specially treated. Her motor deck is 20 feet high which permits the handling of the highest trucks constructed. She can carry 100 cars.

Engineers on Chinook is unusually interesting and the only one of its kind on the Pacific. Power is developed by four large diesel engines with a total of 4,800 horsepower. These engines drive four generators whose power is transmitted through gears to two shafts which drive the twin screws.

The engineers stand in front of a large switchboard, and with a slight movement of a hand-wheel turn on the power. Full speed can be obtained much quicker than any other type of power.

With the four diesels turning over at 300 revolutions a minute the Chinook makes 18 knots. She can maintain her night schedule from Seattle on two engines, but the other two motors are cut in when she operates between Port Angeles and Victoria. This enables her to make the run in 55 minutes from the end of the Victoria breakwater to Ediz Hook light-house at Port Angeles.

Chinook's manoeuvrability impressed shipping men. With a high wind blowing she spun around in Victoria harbor without difficulty. This was made possible by manipulating the two propellers and the twin rudders, which are an innovation. These rudders are placed to the outside of each propeller, which enables them to escape the slipstream and thereby avoid vibration.

Under her present schedule Chinook now spends six of her eleven day hours in port. Capt. Peabody would like to work out some system which would enable the ship to make an extra trip each day between here and Port Angeles as he feels many more tourists could be brought to the Island. Terminal facilities at present, however, are not adequate to handle passengers and cars any faster.

T.C.A. To Inaugurate New Air Routes

Passengers from Vancouver Island, going east by air, will have a choice of three different routes over which to travel beginning July 1, when Trans-Canada Air Lines inaugurates its new mainline service, according to R. L. Williams, city traffic manager.

Two of the three cross-Canada flights will operate from Vancouver through Calgary to Winnipeg and eastern points, while the third flight will continue to operate through Lethbridge. The frequent daily flights from Victoria to Vancouver will provide Victoria and district travelers with a through service over these three routes.

Concurrent with the commencement of these new services on the western portion of its transcontinental route, Trans-Canada will commence operating over the Great Lakes Airway between Winnipeg and Toronto which will be almost 100 miles shorter than the old route across northern Ontario and reduce flying time.

Three more prairie cities, Saskatoon, Medicine Hat and Swift Current, join the T.C.A. network to make possible these various operations across western Canada, according to Mr. Williams.

The early morning flight from Vancouver, leaving at 6.05 will include two of these cities, traveling through Calgary, Medicine Hat, Swift Current and Regina to Winnipeg. An early afternoon departure will be more direct, going through Calgary to Regina and Winnipeg while the third mainline flight will be through Lethbridge and Regina to Winnipeg, leaving Vancouver in the late evening.

COURTENAY—By all indications 1947 will be a record year for building progress in the city of Courtenay. F. W. Tull, city clerk, reports. "So far, building permits for the year are away above normal."

During the month of May, permits for constructions amounted to $32,250. The figure for the same month last year was $12,690.

Mr. Tull expressed confidence building figures for the month of June would also surpass last year's figures.

From January 1 to May 31, of this year, permits issued have amounted to $122,229, nearly three times last year's figure of $42,033.

Was In Hit-And-Run Accident, Then Told Police Car Stolen

Three days of intensive investigation by Saanich policemen, Sgt. Cecil Pearce and Constable Walter Mycock into a hit-and-run report on West Saanich Road one mile south of the Little Saanich Mountain Observatory on Saturday night, resulted in Bernard A. Mobey, Royal Oak, appearing before Magistrate H. C. Hall in Saanich police court Thursday, pleading guilty to two charges, being fined $90 and having his driver's license suspended for one month.

On the charge of dangerous driving Mobey was fined $40 and given the suspension. For the offence of failing to return to the scene of an accident he was involved in and rendering assistance, the fine was $50.

Sgt. Pearce gave the court the evidence in the case as a result of the investigation conducted by himself and Constable Mycock.

He said that Robert Parkin, Powell River, was driving his car north on the highway when his vehicle was struck by a car proceeding in the opposite direction on the wrong side of the road and then failed to stop.

Sgt. Pearce said Parkin's car was damaged to the extent of $195. The sergeant said that he learned from the defendant after he was apprehended that when he investigated his car after the crash the license plate was missing and presumed it has been knocked off by the impact.

Mobey told police that he then got the "bright idea" of reporting his car stolen to the police. He proceeded to Blenkinsop Road and parked the car and then reported that it had been stolen sometime earlier.

The police, however, after finding the license plate and learning the name of the owner through the B.C. Motor Vehicle License Branch of the Provincial Police, started an investigation that eventually led to apprehension of the accused and a confession.

Mobey told police that he then got the "bright idea" of reporting his car stolen to the police. He proceeded to Blenkinsop Road and parked the car and then reported that it had been stolen sometime earlier.

Canadian Doctors Urge Defence Plan Against Atom Bomb

WINNIPEG (CP)—More than half the casualties due to atomic bombs, should Canada be attacked in a future war, are "likely to be ordinary traumatic injuries," involving only physical shock and bruises, the Canadian Medical Association was told here Thursday.

Dr. O. M. Solandt of Ottawa, director of defence research, said at the association's 78th annual convention that "the remainder will be flash burns due to radiant heat from the bombs and cases of gamma ray injury."

"The treatment of flash burns presents no new problems."

"The cases of gamma ray injury will present more complex problems in symptomatic treatment. The object of treatment is to keep the patient alive in the hope the blood-forming mechanism will recover."

"None of the bomb victims in Japan was given adequate treatment, so we have no experience to serve as a guide for future planning. However, main lines of treatment will undoubtedly be repeated transfusions and the administration of suitable drugs to control intercurrent infection and to prevent haemorrhages."

TO USE PSYCHOLOGY

Dr. Solandt warned that in order to guard Canada against possible attack in a future war the Dominion "must plan and, when the need arises, organize an effective civil defence system."

Such a system, he said, must include:

1. Psychological preparation for the population to accept casualties without losing the will to fight;

2. A widespread and effective organization for the detection of attack by chemical and biological agents; and

3. A complete and effective organization for the rescue and treatment of casualties from all causes. This organization he said must be planned to deal with the widespread destruction caused by the atomic bomb.

Most agents of biological warfare, Dr. Solandt said, cannot be detected by the ordinary senses, nor do they announce their presence audibly.

"By the time they are detected and identified the moment for successful treatment or control may have passed. . . . Any future civil defence plans must envisage a most effective organization for the early detection and identification of biological attack."

Dr. Solandt added that preparations such as he outlined "should be regarded merely as a part of the program for the ultimate elimination of war. If we all do our utmost to perfect the democratic way of life in Canada and throughout free countries . . . there is a good chance that another war will not occur."

3 Suspects Held In Brutal Attack

DETROIT (CP)—Macomb County Sheriff F. Scott Burke said Thursday that the arrest of three suspects in the rape of a high school girl and the brutal beating of her two companions is expected soon.

He expressed confidence that suspects being hunted were the ones who attacked two young couples early yesterday at a small gravel pit pool.

Eugene Miller, 17, and August Liniewski, 17, were beaten with clubs. Their girl companions, both 15, fled to the pool. After treading water for several minutes, one of the girls tired, swam to shore and was raped by the waiting trio. The second girl escaped and summoned police.

House Votes Down Effort To Boost Old Age Pensions

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons voted $2 to 61 Thursday to uphold a ruling that a C.C.F. effort to increase the basic old age pension to $50 instead of $30 was out of order.

Ross MacDonald, as chairman of the committee of the whole House which was considering the new pensions bill clause by clause, had ruled that Stanley Knowles, C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre, was not in order on trying to change the clause setting out the amount of pension. Such increases, he said, must be asked only by the Crown.

Mr. Knowles argued that constitutional authorities backed him in his view that since the resolution preceding the bill mentioned no maximum sum he was entitled to ask for the change at this stage.

The ruling was supported by the Liberal members and W. A. MacMaster, P.C., Toronto High Park, George Black, P.C., Yukon, a former speaker, and Ligouri Lacombe, Ind., Laval, Two Mountains, Que.

It was opposed by the C.C.F., the Social Credit group and most of the Progressive Conservatives.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. McCulloch, 1554 Pembroke Street, was given in marriage by her father.

An overskirt of lace, fashioned into bustle effect, added beauty to the bridal gown of satin, styled with fitted bodice, net yoke and full skirt. A Mary Stuart headdress of white satin held her embroidered veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses. The groom's gift of pearls completed her ensemble.

Maid of honor for her sister, Miss Isabel McCulloch was gowning in simply styled yellow net over moire taffeta, with which she wore yellow lace mitts, off-the-face hat and carried a Colonial bouquet.

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as loss of appetite, stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B<sub>1</sub>, C, D, Riboflavin (B<sub>2</sub>), and Niacin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underpar, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

Quota Clubs Honor Pacific Northwest

Special speaker at the Quota Club luncheon Thursday in the Empress Hotel honoring the Pacific Northwest, was E. G.
Rowebottom, Deputy Minister of Trade and Industry.

Mr. Rowebottom gave a brief resume of the early history of the states of Oregon and Washington and the province of British Columbia, and traced common interests from early beginnings to the present day.

He stressed the fact that the Pacific Northwest shares climate, incomparable scenery, aspirations, standards and ideals, also an interest in the defence of the North American continent.

"Enterprise has been the keynote of the Pacific Northwest," he told his audience, "and has been the factor which has combined its separate united into the great industrial Empire of today."

"British Columbia, Washington and Oregon now see themselves as partners in the development of this whole great territory."

"The march of progress is steadily westward," he reminded his audience, and then added:
"This Pacific Northwest is still a young country, immensely rich in all that goes to make a country great."

Shouldering the mantle of prophesy, Mr. Rowebottom then said "the next 50 years will see a growth as outstanding as has been that of the past 50 years.
It is inevitable."

Dr. Mary Powell Northam presided. Business sessions of the convention continue at the Brocco today and Saturday, concluding with an installation banquet in the Empress Hotel, Saturday night.

Combine ham, crumbs, beaten egg combined with milk. Divide mixture and shape into eight balls. Brown in melted fat in heavy skillet. Heat ingredients for sauce. Pour over ham balls.
Bake in slow oven (325 deg. F.)
about 45 minutes.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: My 23-year-old daughter has recently developed a mood of almost complete silence when she is at home. She insists nothing is wrong. She has a fine position as a receptionist and she says that she talks all day and listens to other people and when she gets home she enjoys being quiet and thinks she should be allowed to do as she pleases in her own home.

What shall I do? Ignore her mood, hoping it will pass?
—A MOTHER.

Answer: I think you should let her pass into the silence, if that is what she craves, instead of expecting her to be bright and gay and vivacious after her nerves have been worn to tatters trying to make herself interesting all day.

One of the greatest gripes that domestic women have is that their husbands won't talk at home. They retire behind their newspapers of an evening and refuse to do more than grunt when spoken to, and this peeves the wives very much. Friend Wife thinks that her husband should be full of chit-chat about whom he has seen, what he has done, and tell her funny stories, when the poor man, whose vocal chords are practically worn-out with arguing and persuading and trying to jolly people into doing what he wanted them to do, desires nothing on earth so much as a little quiet and silence.

Your daughter is going through exactly the same experience as her father, and you should understand it and sym-

on their tough hides.

Stylized Classic

Artful manipulation of fabric pattern in the aqua-figured white crepe afternoon dress designed by Joseph Zukin of California gives new meaning to the classic shirt-waist style. Attuned to the swinging accordion pleated accompaniment, an airy half-hat in aqua straw and blue-tinted flowers was created by DeVillar to be worn at a perky profile angle.

Social Situations

THE SITUATION: During the time you are busy getting settled in a new town several women come to call on you.

WRONG WAY: Since you are busy, decide that it isn't necessary for you to return their calls.

RIGHT WAY: Return the call if you do not want to risk offending those who have made a gesture of friendliness toward you.

Saanich Criticized Delaying Measures In Hut Reconversion

A charge that Saanich Municipal Council is delaying reconversion of Gordon Head army camp huts to temporarily house war veterans with "red tape" stipulations, was made at a meeting of the Victoria and District Zone Council of the Canadian Legion at its meeting Thursday night.

The council heard that the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council is being forced by the council to put in permanent wiring, septic tanks and plumbing. This in spite of the fact the reconversion is only for the period until the housing shortage was eliminated.

The regulation as laid down by the council is causing undue delay in the program to rush renovation of the huts to give veterans' families roofs over their heads, it was stressed.

Reeve A. I. Thomas, and G. A. Macdonald, president of the Esquimalt branch of the Legion, welcomed the council for its first meeting in the Esquimalt unit hall. The women's auxiliary of the branch, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Smith, provided refreshments.

Honor H. J. Maguire On Retirement

Retirement of H. J. Maguire, general mail and baggage agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway at Vancouver after 43 years with the company, and appointment of A. N. Patterson, Winnipeg, to succeed him, is announced effective June 30 by W. E. Allison, manager of mail and baggage traffic for the C.P.R.

Mr. Maguire has been with the railway in Vancouver since 1908, after first joining the company in 1904 as a clerk in Toronto. In 1908 he was named district baggage agent, Vancouver, and in 1939 he became general mail and baggage agent. He played a large part in the development and supervision of automobile traffic for the B.C. Coast Service.

On Monday officers of the C.P.R. in Vancouver will honor Mr. Maguire at a party at the Hotel Vancouver.

Salvationists Mark Twelfth Anniversary

The 12th anniversary of the opening of Esquimalt corps will be observed this week-end with special meetings conducted by Maj. and Mrs. E. Brunsden in the Salvation Army Hall, Catherine and Edward Streets, at 11 and 2.30, with Sunday school at 2.30 o'clock. The corps band, under Bandmaster E. Bent will play at the Colquitz Mental Home before the morning service. Messages will be read during the day from former commanding officers.

For some years before the Salvation Army had commenced operations in Canada, it was represented in Esquimalt by Salvationists on the ships of the British Navy stationed there. These, with other navy men, were entertained by Esquimalt residents, and often visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Porter, and with their song books and War Cry and personal experiences they demonstrated the work of the organization in the Old Country.

Brooklyn Bounces Into First Place

Brooklyn Dodgers vaulted into first place in the National League by a half game last night, outslugging Boston Braves 8 to 6 at Ebbets Field. Jackie Robinson began the Dodgers' ninth inning winning rally with a double off relief pitcher Si Johnson. Robinson scampared home with the tie-breaking run on Dixie Walker's single and Walker ambled across with the insurance run when Johnny Beazley, fifth Brave pitcher, passed Ralph Branca with the bases loaded.

Branca, who gained credit for the victory, his 10th of the season, entered the game in the eighth and halted the Braves after they had scored their five runs. Mike McCormick homered for Boston and Carl Furillo for the Dodgers.

EWELL (No-hit) Blackwell, outstanding young right-hander of Cincinnati Reds pitched his 10th straight victory and his 12th of the season by turning back St. Louis Cardinals 6 to 3 in a night game at St. Louis.

The Cards found Blackwell, who in his two previous starts hurled a no-hitter and two-hitter respectively against the Braves and Dodgers, for eight safeties while the Reds pounded Harry Brecheen for 13 blows. The Cards ended Blackwell's consecutive scoreless inning streak at 21 by scoring a run in the second inning.

HORSE racing in the Pacific Northwest made its formal 1947 debut at the Lansdowne strip in Vancouver today, with the opening cars at Longacres in Washington set for tomorrow. Advance dope from the B.C. Turf and Country Club which will operate for 28 days at the Lulu Island track told of over 600 head ready for campaigning and some 40 jockeys on hand which bids for a successful meeting. Longacres, as usual, will have plenty of stock available for its 14th racing season. Whether or not the tracks will experience the same let-down in mutual play that has marked meetings at most tracks on the continent this year remains to be seen.

ALTHOUGH it is comparatively new in the racing world, officials at Longacres have already started lip-tattooing of all thoroughbreds stabled there. According to the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, the lip tattoo provides a tamper-proof system of identifying horses. The system has been officially adopted by all members of the Thoroughbred Racing Associations of the United States to ensure tracks against ringers or accidental substitutions by making horse identifications a positive art. Tattooing is done speedily without pain or after effects to the horse by the simple application of ink-dipped dies to the upper lip. More than 4,000 horses have been tattooed so far, and there have been no cases of infection or even interruption of feeding or training schedules.

A NEW YORK scribe points out another handicap Jackie Robinson, negro star with the Brooklyn Dodgers, suffers in playing night baseball. He claims that Robinson can't afford to smile as his pearly teeth give him away when he's committing nocturnal larceny on the base paths. The other night Robinson stole home in a game against Pittsburgh. Baseball's best control pitcher right now is the veteran Lynnwood (Schoolboy) Rowe. He has hurled five games without walking a batter and won them all. In 73½ innings he has issued but seven passes. He would be a good instructor for Victoria Athletics' Mr. Woop.

ABE SIMON, the six-foot, seven-inch 260-pound giant has been granted a referee's license which gives New York the world's biggest third man in a boxing ring. Simon was in there twice with champion Joe Louis, being stopped in 13 and then in seven rounds. Simon, who didn't have a mark on his face the second time because Louis hit him on the chin most of the time, insisted Louis never hurt him. A few weeks later he quit the ring because of headaches.

Salem Lose Argument But Win Ball Game

Failing to hold an early 6 to 1 lead when their pitchers could toss up nothing but hitting balls, Victoria Athletics suffered a humiliating 15 to 9 defeat at the hands of third-place Salem in their Western International League ball game last night. Victoria pitching staff looked its worst this season and matters became so bad at the finish that outfielder Pat Patterson and third sacker Babe Jensen worked on the mound the last two innings.

The evening was cold but the temperature around home plate was anything but frigid in a wild fourth inning which saw Salem manager Jack Wilson and two of his players get the heave-ho by plate umpire Hughie Day. Trouble started when Day called a third strike on third basemen Mel Nunes for the third out with the bases loaded.

Nunes immediately went into an Indian war dance and after cutting loose with a lot of choice language was thumbed to the showers. Wilson took up the cause and followed with outfielder Bob Moore going berserk and getting chased as a couple of teammates held him away from the umps.

Forced to juggle their lineup the Senators were a riled bunch of players and took their revenge on the Victoria hurlers. In the sixth inning, Sinovic who went into the lineup in right field, punched out a home run with two mates aboard to tie the score, during a five-run rally. In the seventh the Senators pushed across another six runs as the Victoria pitching staff fell apart.

WHITE HITS WELL

After Salem had got one run off starting hurler Bill Prior in the top of the first inning the A's roared back with three in their half on the strength of Bill White's inside the park home run with two aboard. A's pushed across another three in the third on White's second home run and a circuit blow by Jack Harshman.

Athletics added single runs in the sixth, eighth and ninth with Jensen's home run accounting for the eighth inning rally.

Prior left the game under fire in the fifth to be replaced by Dick Mitchell. The latter left hurriedly in the sixth and Max Hittle took over, only to walk a pair of runners and depart. The old reliable reliever, Joe Blanken-

Thompson, Chungranes Pace Foul Bay To Win

Canadian Legion lost their first league lacrosse game in two years at Stevenson Memorial Park last night. To a fighting band of Foul Bay youngsters went the honor of defeating what was recognized as the cream of local boxla talent.

It wasn't so much the defeat of Legion that pleased the goodly crowd, but the way in which the Doug Bray coached team did it. They literally slaughtered the Vets, sinking them under the amazing count of 15 to 4.

That four-goal total of the Vets was a new low for the season and credit for a brilliant performance must go to red-headed Alan Thompson, custodian of the Foul Bay goal.

Thompson was superb, especially in the second half of the contest when he stopped the Legion with one marker. His saves sometimes bordered on the miraculous.

On the offensive end of the picture, shifty Dick Chungranes was the outstanding player. The dark-haired forward whipped six goals past Buzz Long in the Legion nets as well as picking up two assists. Chungranes scored two goals in the first period when Legion enjoyed their only lead of the game 3 to 2. He picked up another in the third period, and then climaxed his performance with three in the final quarter.

Tom McKeachie scored half the Legion total, notching two. In addition to handing the veterans their first loss the Foul Bay team kept a winning streak

Strong St. Andrews Eleven To Meet Revamped United

Vancouver St. Andrews, who seem to take delight in coming to Victoria and knocking off local soccer teams with monotonous regularity, will be here again tomorrow for a Dominion title playdown against Victoria United. The sudden-death cup game will start at 6.15 at Macdonald Park.

Most notable change in the United lineup as announced by manager Ralph Cosier today is the moving of Lou Heppenstall from his regular inside right position to centre forward.

Joe Travis has been moved up to the inside right post, while Gordie Cooper will handle inside left. Nip Sage will start at right wing with Ab Travers patrolling the left flank.

Red McMillan, Charlie Restell and Murray Speller will look

Legion To Meet Navy Balltossers Tonight

Week-end schedule for senior amateur baseball squads will see Pitzer and Nex traveling to Duncan Sunday for a pair of games with the all-stars, while Chelminis will visit the city for one contest, with Navy at Macdonald Park.

Tonight's game at the James Bay enclosure will pit Legion against the sailors at 7. Lloyd Carn will pitch for the Vets with Jeff Worrell, who lost that heart-breaker to Bill Prior last week, slated to go for the middies. No games are scheduled Saturday.

To Count School Votes After Saanich Poll Tomorrow

Saanich ratepayers in Wards 1, 2, 3, 7 and part of 4 will vote on the School Buildings by-law Saturday, with the polls being open from 8 in the morning until 8 at night, John Tribe, returning officer, stated today.

Wards 5 and 6, and part of 4 are not in the Greater Victoria School District, and will have no say on the by-law. Any resident of these wards who owns property in the school district has been placed on a supplementary list Mr. Tribe said, and may vote at any polling station within the municipality.

Thursday, View Royal, Esquimalt and Oak Bay ratepayers polled the school by-law and the ballot boxes, have been sealed, as were the city's, until 8 Saturday when Saanich polls close. All ballots will be counted at this time.

The vote was heavy in View Royal with approximately 50 per cent of the ratepayers turning out, S. T. Morrow, returning officer, said today. Just over 300 came to the polls, and there are approximately 600 on the list.

In Esquimalt the vote was one of the lightest in Esquimalt history, W. J. Cave, returning officer, said, with only 607 ballots being cast. The previous week one of the heaviest votes in the municipality's career was cast on the by-election for reeve and the transportation by-law, when 1,150 voters came out. Four hundred and fifty seven voted at the Municipal Hall and 150 at 855 Craigflower.

In Oak Bay there were 1,562 votes cast, almost 400 less than cast a week ago on the transportation by-law.

Polling stations for Saanich voters tomorrow are as follows: Ward 1, Cedar Hill School and the residence of G. H. Walton; 3099 Richmond Road; Ward 2, Tolmie School and Cloverdale School; Ward 3, Gordon Head School and Cadboro Bay Scout Hall.

Ward 4, Marigold Boy Scout Hall and the residence of F. A. Birgin, 3890 Douglas Street; Ward 7, Tillicum School and St. Martins-in-the-Field Hall.

Christmas Card Is A Little Late In Arriving--6 Months

"I guess it's better late than never," said Constable Robert Smith of the Oak Bay police force with a grin today when he and his wife were in receipt of a 1946 Christmas card mailed from Port Angeles before Christmas Day last year.

The envelope was addressed: "Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and Son, 2059 Hampshire Road, Oak Bay, B.C."

There was no province given in the address and as a result the card has traveled considerably before finally reaching its right destination. It had been to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick besides other places before it got on the route leading to Victoria.

In Legion Competition

JOHN ROWLANDS

Victoria will have at least one competitor in the creation of a Canadian Legion marching song in the person of John Rowlands. Today he is celebrating a birthday as he awaits the judges' decision. Mr. Rowlands is the composer of the words and music of "British Columbia"; "The Royal Canadian Navy"; "The R.C.A.F. Waltz"; a new Canadian National Anthem; "The Fairbridge Farm School Marching Song"; and organ numbers, already played in many city churches, such as an "Andante" and "Humility."

Pioneer Resident Of Victoria Dead

Thomas Charles Hubbard, resident of this city for 65 years, died Wednesday evening at the family residence, 137 Clarence Street, in his 87th year. He was born in Walton, Norfolk, England, and 18 years ago retired from the Dominion Customs office, Victoria, after 17 years' service. The late Mr. Hubbard left England in 1881. For a time he rode on the range in New Mexico and afterwards came up through California to Chehalis, Washington, where he ranched for a year before coming to Victoria. He was foreman on the E. & N. Railway for 18 years. Later he was employed on the Victoria and Sidney Railway. In 1899 he went to the Yukon, where he ran a store in Whitehorse for a year. In 1895 he was married to Miss Harriet E. Townsend, who was one of the first white twins to be born in Victoria. Besides his widow, he is survived by one sister, Mrs. Kate Hubbard in England; also nieces and nephews in the Old Country. He was an active member of the Victoria Lodge No. 1, I.O.O.F.

Funeral will be Saturday at 3 from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel; burial in Colwood Burial Park.

Big Yacht Racing Event Will Start Here Tomorrow

Sixteen big auxiliary cruisers from the United States, the mainland and Victoria, including the $40,000 65-foot sloop Spirit II, owned by Harold A. Jones of Vancouver, will anchor in the Inner Harbor this evening, preliminary to starting on the Swiftsure Bank race at 12:30 p.m. Saturday from the breakwater.

The race sponsored by the P.Y.A. is one of the biggest yachting events of the year and is open to all vessels capable of "taking it" in heavy weather. The course is 160 miles long with a time limit of 60 hours, ending at Protection Island.

The yawl Galatea, owned by Dr. A. J. Stewart of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, is the only entry from Victoria. The vessel will be skippered by veteran yachtsman Ned Ashe, and crew members will include the owner, Morris Green and Wally Jeune.

There are nine entries from the Seattle Yacht Club, four from the Corinthian Club and two from the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club. The visiting yachtsmen and their boats are all well known to Victorians.

The first big yacht to anchor in the Inner Harbor today was the Circe, owned by R. Cooke of the Seattle Yacht Club. Others from the same club scheduled to participate in the race are Neoga, skippered by Allan Engle; Dorace, Ralph James, and the Sindh.

The Corinthian Yacht Club will be represented by the Linda, William Buchanan; Mios Woendi, W. Troster; Alotola, C. Frisbie, and Owens Cutter, Charles Ross.

The only other vessel from Vancouver will be the Cressett, belonging to D. P. Orry.

The course will be patrolled by a United States Coast Guard cutter. P.Y.A. committee members will be aboard and will fire the finishing gun.

The Swiftsure race was started by the P.Y.A. in 1936, but not since the war has a race been held. The race will be followed by a regatta to be held in Seattle which will be attended by nearly every yachtsman in Victoria, including hundreds from Vancouver.

Upholstery May Be Renewed?

Interior of car may be renovated as easily as mechanical repairs

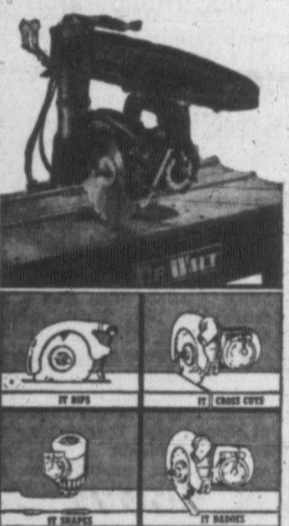

Many a car on the road, though in perfect mechanical condition, loses dollars in resale value through the condition of the interior. Torn or worn upholstery, torn seat covers, broken springs, these show neglect that the prospective buyer must think extends to engine and running gear. It is not usually realized that renovation may be carried out at little cost, bringing back the comfort and appearance of a new car. In the departmentalized repair shops of McLeod-Lumsden Motors, 865 Yates Street, a special department specializes in this work, repairing, renovating and replacing worn parts. This at surprisingly little cost. It is well worth while to get a quotation on the work and find out for how little you can regain new car appearance and comfort.

Saanich Plan For Immigration Backed By Legion Council

An immigration policy sought by the Saanich Peninsula Branch of the Canadian Legion "because it is generally agreed that Canada, with its vast territories and natural resources needs a greater population than that of natural increase," was adopted by the Victoria and District Zone Council of the Canadian Legion Thursday.

The Saanich resolution on the matter notes that as a result of need for bringing in outside peoples to settle in Canada "immigration is a live and serious issue which must be faced and met with serious thought."

The Saanich branch recommends that a selective type of immigration policy be adopted which will avoid the evils of the past, such as racial group settlement, drafts of cheap gang labor and groups of political or religious refugees.

"Rather we would favor the entry of new immigrants under the following headings:

"Preference to Britishers who think they can adapt themselves to our mode of living; people of European extraction, chiefly agriculturists who are willing to work on the land and be assimilated as Canadians, entry of Asiatics and Afrikanders not of European origin to be maintained at the lowest possible minimum, as we are of the opinion that these people cannot be easily assimilated as Canadians.

"Immigrants from any country to be of good health and physique, willing to work at any employment; make illegal any corporate body schemes which desire to bring in immigrants with a view to obtaining cheap labor; avoid government-sponsored schemes which usually use Canada as a dumping ground for undesirables.

"Refrain from propaganda to induce people to emigrate, but rather that emigration be on a voluntary seeking basis, as we feel that those who come here of their own free volition and with little persuasion make the best settlers.

"An economic survey to be set up to determine what industries are requiring labor assistance and what areas could be used for land settlement so that placements can be made on arrival."

Prize Giving At Glenlyon School

Glenlyon Preparatory School held its 15th annual prize-giving on Wednesday morning. The headmaster, Ian Simpson, reviewed the school activities for the year and laid special stress on the high standards set by boys who had recently left Glenlyon. Jones had led his form at Blundells, England; Dunlop 1 and 2 led the Varsity team at Brentwood; Morant led the Varsity team at University School, and Fraser led the team at Shawinigan. Archibald, de L. Nunns was the speaker and emphasized that private schools alone today gave the complete education by including definite religious instruction, which was the basis of character building.

Daring Steeplejack Brightens Statue

One hundred and forty-five feet above street level, steeplejack Stan Milovitch sits atop the head of Capt. George Vancouver's statue on the main dome of the Legislative Buildings to wipe the nose of the gold-painted effigy. Re-brightening of the statue started a week ago and was completed this week. A special plastic coating protects the bright, new gold which adorns the statue.

Transit Strike Ends

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Streetcars and buses resumed service today, ending a 14-day strike that had paralyzed public transportation facilities in this area of more than 1,000,000 population. An agreement settling the strike was signed early today by officers of the Public Service Company and the Transit Workers' Union. The agreement provides for re-arbitration of the wage dispute which a previous arbitration award failed to settle.

President Vetoes Wool Price Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman vetoed the wool price support bill Thursday because he said it would have "an adverse effect on our international relations."

The measure would have continued government prices on wool at present levels and authorized the President to boost tariffs or restrict imports if pushed down domestic prices. "The enactment of a law providing for additional barriers to the importation of wool at the very moment when this government is taking the leading part in a United Nations conference at Geneva" to reduce trade barriers "would be a tragic mistake," Mr. Truman said.

foreign wool or wool products.

ONE MINUTE NEWS

ABOUT
JOHNS-MANVILLE
HARD TO BEAT THESE STUFFINGS
When grandpa was a boy, that useful servant-of-industry called Packing was known as "stuffing." But when the boys got to boasting that "We'll beat the stuffing out of 'em," you can be sure it was the gang around the corner they meant, and not Johns-Manville Packings.

What are Packings? Well, simply explained, Packings are used in many types of machinery to keep water, oil and other liquids "under control." For example, in your motor car it is Packing which seals the water pump and prevents leaks. But that is only one of the minor uses. In the countless forms and styles in which Asbestos Packing is produced by Johns-Manville, its big job is to save horsepower for industry. Without it the wheels of our industry couldn't turn! Important as it is, Packing is just one of the hundreds of essential products which trace back to J-M's Canadian factory and the J-M mine at Asbestos, Que.—the largest asbestos mine in the world.

'Fabulous Dorseys' Showing At Plaza

There's going to be a wave of nostalgia emanating from picture fans when they run across Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey in Charles R. Rogers' scintillating film biography of their careers, "The Fabulous Dorseys." The picture, a United Artists release, is at the Plaza Theatre today.

Some of the hit tunes which made them famous, and which are all interwoven into the story, are "Green Eyes," "Marie," "At Sundown," "I'm Getting Sentimental Over You," "The Object of My Affections," "Everybody's Doin' It," "Runnin' Wild" and "I'll Never Say Never Again."

Tommy gives forth on the trombone, with Jimmy making "sweet and low" with the saxophone.

ATLAS THEATRE

"The Jolson Story," Columbia Pictures' heart-stirring new film depicting the times of a great entertainer, is currently at the Atlas Theatre today on the wings of magical technicolor and some of the most glorious music ever contained in a motion picture, to give those in attendance the rare treat of finding Hollywood at its lavish best. Importantly cast are Larry Parks, Evelyn Keyes, William Demarest and Bill Goodwin.

Where To Go Tonight

ATLAS—The Jolson Story, starring Larry Parks.

CAPITOL—The Shocking Miss Pilgrim, starring Betty Grable and Dick Haymes.

DOMINION—Angel and the Badman, starring John Wayne and Gail Russell.

OAK BAY—Brief Encounter, with Celia Johnson.

PLAZA—The Fabulous Dorseys, starring Jimmy and Tommy Dorsey.

RIO—John Kimbrough in "Lone Star Ranger."

ROYAL—Alan Ladd and Gail Russell in "Calcutta."

"CALCUTTA," Paramount's exciting adventure film at the Royal Theatre, features Alan Ladd and Gail Russell.

'Calcutta,' At Royal, Authentic Picture

It is not just coincidence that "Calcutta," the Paramount murder-mystery now at the Royal Theatre with Alan Ladd, Gail Russell and William Bendix co-starred, emerges as the most authentic picture ever made with an Indian background. For weeks before the film was put into production, and all during its shooting, Director John Farrow prodded and needed four technical directors on every single detail.

Although "Calcutta" is laid in India, it is not a story about India. It is a murder mystery whose locale is India and, as such, was determined that whatever glimpses the audience had of the background, no matter how brief, would be authentic.

Ghost Town Memento Of Film Location

There's a new ghost town in Arizona. Its deserted street looks much like any other ghost town. But the difference lies in the fact that it was inhabited for only a few weeks!

The town was built for John Wayne's first starring-producing film for Republic, "Angel and the Badman," and Gail Patrick, Bruce Cabot, Irene Rich and Harry Carey were familiar figures on its street. It was a hustling, bustling place... with actors, actresses, cameras, technical crews and laborers. Now it is deserted.

Ernst Fegte, art director, who won the Academy Award for his work on "Frenchman's Creek," designed the town which was background for the heart-warming love story.

"Angel and the Badman," starring Wayne and Miss Russell, is now playing at the Dominion Theatre.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Stanley Holloway plays Albert Godby, station ticket collector, in Noel Coward's "Brief Encounter," which is at the Oak Bay Theatre. Albert Godby is the type of man you would expect to find collecting tickets from passengers at a small country station, and he has a way with him which appeals to all the travelers. He is not so successful in his aspiration toward the hand of Myrtle Bagot (Joyce Carey), who is the manageress of the station refreshment room, and Albert is inclined to be henpecked.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Seventy years ago it was harder to kiss a girl—even when she was willing—than it is today, Dick Haymes discovered during the filming of a love scene with Betty Grable in "The Shocking Miss Pilgrim," Twentieth Cen### tury-Fox's Technicolor musical which is now at the Capitol Theatre.

The script directions called for Dick to take Betty in his arms, kiss her, then croon a love song. But Betty, as was the fashion in 1874, was wearing a wide-brimmed skimmer which Dick had to remove before he could get close enough to kiss her. And no matter how gently he removed the hat, Betty's hairdo took a beating.

Big Thunderstorm In London Area

LONDON (Reuter) — One of the worst thunderstorms in living memory today blotted out radio communications from London to overseas countries.

Frequent heavy discharges of lightning, breaking through a black midday sky, erased telegraphic signals from radio news tapes.

"In 40 years' experience I have never known such atmospherics (Statics)," an official of the British post office said.

A heavy downpour of rain drenched London shoppers and immobilized road vehicles as their wheels spun in river-like streets.

Green Cross* GARDEN PROTECTION GUIDE

MODERN Pest Control PRODUCTS

VEGETABLES

POTATOES—The common pests of potatoes include Colorado Potato Beetle, Leafhoppers, Aphids, Flea Beetles, Early Blight and Late Blight. All of these may be controlled by dusting with Complete Potato Dust every ten days from the time the plants are five inches high.

CABBAGE, CAULIFLOWER, BRUSSELS SPROUTS AND BROCCOLI—The foliage of Cabbage and related plants is devoured by three kinds of green worms—The Imported Cabbage Worm, Cabbage Looper, and the Diamond Back Moth. For control of all three apply Green Cross Rotenone Garden Guard weekly throughout the season from the time the plants are set out.

TOMATOES—Tomatoes are attacked by Hornworms, Fruitworms, Flea Beetles, Early Blight and Late Blight. Apply Green Cross Tomato Dust every ten days.

CUCUMBERS, MELONS, SQUASH, CANTALOUPE, PUMPKIN—Vine crops are attacked by the Striped Cucumber Beetle, Aphids, Squash Bugs, and Bacterial Wilt. The Striped Cucumber Beetle spreads Bacterial Wilt Disease. Apply Garden Guard every ten days throughout the season.

SWEET CORN—For control of European Corn Borer—Apply four applications of Garden Guard weekly commencing when the eggs are laid (about the end of June).

SHRUBS • SHADE TREES

SPIREA, SNOWBALL—Aphids are "small-sucking" insects which feed in clusters on the undersides of leaves and on young shoots causing leaves to curl. Starting in early spring, apply NNOR every 10 days and repeat as necessary.

JUNIPER—Needles may turn yellow and drop off from attack of Red Spiders. Apply 2 tablespoons of Emu-Nik in one gallon water. Repeat in 10 days.

SHADE TREES—Leaf-eating worms attack Maple, Elm, Oak, Poplar, Mountain Ash. Spray with ¼ lb. DDT Wettable Powder in 10 gallons water, or 5 teaspoons in one gallon water.

HONEYSUCKLE—Pests include Honeysuckle Sawfly, Honeysuckle Budworm and Aphids. Apply DDT Flower Spray early in season and repeats necessary.

PRIVET—For leaf-eating insects apply DDT Flower Spray (2 teaspoons per gallon of water).

GREEN CROSS INSECTICIDES

FLOWERS

ROSES—Many pests attack Roses—Rose Scale, Oyster Shell Scale, Aphids, Rose Budworm, Leaf Rollers, Rose Slugs, Rose Sawfly, Rose Curculio, Leafhoppers and Rose Chaffer. Diseases include Mildew and Black Spot. When you uncover your Roses in Spring and before the buds burst, apply Dry Lime Sulphur (10 tablespoons to 1 gallon water). Then apply Complete Potato Dust every 10 days from the time the plants come into full bloom right through the summer and autumn. As a complete spray apply DDT Flower Spray (2 teaspoons) and Copper King (2½ teaspoons) in one gallon water.

GLADIOLI—For control of Gladiolus Thrips, apply DDT Flower Spray each week from the time the spikes are a few inches high.

DAHLIA—Leaves and flower buds distorted by Tarnished Plant Bug—"Dahlia Stunt"—caused by sucking insects or mosaic disease. For Tarnished Plant Bugs and "Stunt" caused by insect, apply DDT Flower Spray every 10 days. Worms bore in stems causing top to wither. Cut off wilted stems and destroy. Always examine dahlia tubers for storage roots before planting. Cut off infected portion—dust exposed area with sulphur.

PEONY—Ants and Rose Chafers are common on Peonies. Ants do not harm Peonies. For control of Rose Chafers, apply DDT Flower Spray every 10 days as necessary.

CHRYSANTHEMUM—Tarnished Plant Bugs distort blooms. This plant is also attacked by other sucking and chewing insects. Apply DDT Flower Spray every 10 days.

HOLLYHOCK—Rust appears as orange-brown to purplish-brown pustules on leaf surfaces and stems. Dust with Mulsoid Sulphur, starting early in spring and repeat treatment every 10 days.

VIRGINIA CREEPER—Leafhoppers feed on plant juices, causing leaves to lose colour and appear mottled. Apply DDT Flower Spray and repeat in 10 days.

LAWNS

White Grubs cause dead patches of grass. Mix 1 lb. Arsenate of Lead with sifted soil and scatter over lawn followed by washing into soil with lawn hose. Ants—Scatter Pyrethrin in and around ant hills. When ant hills are numerous, scatter thinly over lawn surface. Weeds—Spray Weed-No-More evenly over lawn surface. One oz. Weed-No-More in a gallon water is sufficient for 250 sq. ft. of lawn surface. Kills weeds completely; won't harm grass.

Derose Pitches Perfect Ball Game With Sore Arm

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Carl Derose, Kansas City Blues' 220-pound pitcher, today had a perfect no-hit game to his credit in the American Association baseball records — and he did it with an ailing arm.

The big righthander, whose arm has bothered him practically the entire season, faced only 27 batters in hurling Kansas City to a 5 to 0 victory over the Minneapolis Millers last night.

The game was a test for Derose — to see whether he could continue pitching or whether he should return home for an operation on his arm.

Recently, physicians who checked his arm suggested that some temporary remedy calculated to deaden the pain be used or that Derose drop baseball this season and submit to an operation. The ailment developed during spring training.

It was the first game Derose had pitched since May 31 when he went eight innings against Milwaukee and was removed to save his arm. After that performance the arm pained so keenly at times he was unable to sleep.

Three weeks ago he was sent to the New York Yankees' trainer for treatment and was advised to take a rest cure. The Yankees are the Blues' parent club.

But last night Derose had almost flawless control, tossing a total of only 93 pitches.

CBC Independent, Says Chairman In Answering Charge

OTTAWA (CP)—A. D. Dunton, chairman of the board of governors of the CBC, told the Commons radio committee today that "it is hard to think of a more independent public body" than the board of governors.

He made the statement while giving his rebuttal to the recent Canadian Association of Broadcasters' brief which charged that the CBC was government-controlled and which called for establishment of an independent body to license and regulate radio in Canada.

He quoted a letter received recently from station CFCN in Calgary, which he described as a prominent member of C.A.B. and one of the most powerful private stations west of Winnipeg.

The letter said: "As CBC regulations require a station to sell time to all groups, if they sell to any, we have discontinued selling time between elections for political broadcasts, because about the only people who would spend money 52 weeks in the year belong to some ism or other."

"This is hard to reconcile with statements in the C.A.B. brief about freedom of the air," said Mr. Dunton.

"It is our belief that the chief responsibility for freedom of expression of speech on the air, for the full and fair and free interchange of opinions, lies with broadcasters. There is nothing preventing them from seeing that

Plant Blows Up, But No Casualties

LOUVIERS, Colo. (AP)—Company officials said today a tell-tale wisp of smoke coming from a dynamite-laden building at the Louviers powder plant enabled them to evacuate workers from a danger zone before a heavy explosion, felt 20 miles away in Denver, razed the building.

C. T. Wirth, chief clerk for E.I. du Pont de Nemours and Co., the owners, said this short warning prevented any casualties. He added 50 workers were evacuated in less than five minutes.

The explosion Thursday sent a cloud of smoke and debris mushrooming into the air, tossed pieces of the wooden building up to two miles, and broke windows throughout the plant area.

The last was in a frame building used for loading powder into dynamite cartridges. It was separated from other buildings by 1,000 feet and surrounded by an earthen bank so that most of the force of the blast went upward.

Gave Wrong Figure

OTTAWA (CP)—Donald Fleming, P.C., Toronto-Eglinton, drew from Gordon Murchison, director of the Veterans' Land Act, Thursday an admission he had given incorrect information in saying that only three out of some 740 parcels of evacuated Japanese farm lands in British Columbia had been sold by him to non-veterans at prices in excess of the cost.

Mr. Fleming, after almost ex-

NEW YORK (AP)—Scattered oil stocks touched highs for the year in today's stock market and other firm spots persisted although light selling on bearishness over the labor situation put many leaders on the losing side. Transfer ran around 700,000 shares, a low for the week.

At 1947 tops—some eventually slipped—were Standard Oil (N.J.), Seaboard Oil, Standard Oil of Cal., Shamrock Oil, Texas Pacific Coal and Oil and Northern Natural Gas. The last-named was spurred by split-up proposal.
